Chinese New Year celebrations kick off at Cabramatta Station on Friday (February 12) with decorations and fortune cookies for all customers.

Customer Services General Manager for the south George Stojkovski said station staff will be decorating the station to celebrate the 2010 Year of the Tiger.

“A Chinese New Year stall will be set up at Cabramatta Station to provide information, fortune cookies with rail safety messages and bottled water to customers all day on Friday and Saturday.

“On Friday (February 12) customers can also ‘Meet the Managers’ at Cabramatta Station from 6.30am until 9am.

“This is a great opportunity for RailCorp customers to meet the staff and get in the spirit for the Chinese New Year celebrations,” Mr Stojkovski said.

“RailCorp will help start the festivities for customers visiting the area to enjoy the lion dancing, circus workshop and other entertainment put on by Fairfield City Council.

“Alongside the celebrations, Cabramatta Station will also host a Chinese New Year children’s colouring competition.

“All children under the age of 12 years old can enter and the winners of each age category will get a free family ShowLink ticket to the Royal Easter Show April 1-14, 2010.

“The colouring competition closes on Friday 26 February 2010 and winners will be announced in March.”
